COAL TRACT TO BE PURCHASED BY THE LILLEY COAL COMPANY

Block Comprizes 2,500 Acres in Amwell Township, This County

TO BE CONFIRMED BY COURT

The Lilley Coal company, in which a number of Charleroi capitalists are interested and whose operating plant is located near West Brownsville, have agreed upon terms with I. W. Semans of Uniontown, whereby the Lilley Company is to take over a block of 2,500 acres of coal in Amwell township, this county.

While definite figures could not be obtained, it is intimated that the sum involved will total nearly a million dollars. John Moffitt, secretary of the Company, said the deal for the coal had been pending for some time but that it would require confirmation on the part of the United States Court, because of the fact that bankruptcy proceedings had been filed against Mr. Semans. However it is intimated that the court will likely approve the sale, thus permitting the Lilley Company to go ahead with the development of this tract, land for which has already been purchased on the Paul farm, south of Washington.

The new purchase adjoins a block of 1,000 acres which the Lilley Company bought some time ago, and which adjoins the southern boundary of Washington and a portion of which lies within the borough.

The company's plant at West Brownsville has been intensely developed during the past few years, and the corporation realized the necessity of adding to its holdings in order to keep actively in the bituminous coal trade.

HEADQUARTERS TO BE IN DONORA

While the exemption board of the Fifth District has received no official notification from Washington as to the list of numbers drawn on Friday last, the Board has gone ahead and secured headquarters in Donora and disposed of other preliminary business, that the examining of men called to the colors may not be delayed.

Headquarters of the Board will be established in the old People's Bank building, corner of McKean and seventh street, Donora, where all applicants for any and all information concerning the draft as well as date to be examined can be obtained. It is the purpose of the local Board to put things in such shape that there need be no delay, after the master list has been received from Washington, which will be some day this week.

NATIONAL GUARDS MAY GO DIRECT TO FRANCE

It is intimated that the National Guard of Pennsylvania may go direct to France, instead of to the cantonment at Augusta, Ga. None of the National Guard officers are giving out any intimation as to what their destination will be, the only word so far being given out being that the for the Georgia camp. It is likely the various companies will be moved this week from their various home camps, but an air of secrecy is being maintained as to when this will take place, or as to where they will be sent. The one thing that may hold the Pennsylvania troops is the fact that all of the men are not yet equipped, while some of the regiments are not yet up to war strength.

HERRON MAY BE A CANDIDATE

Monongahela Banker Mentioned as Candidate for State Senate

WELL AND FAVORABLY KNOWN

It is announced from Monongahela, that Joseph A. Herron, business man and banker, will be a candidate for the Republican nomination for State Senate at the primaries to be held next May, from the Washington-reene district.

The Democrats have held the seat for the past seven years, the present occupant being Senator Stewart from Greene county. The friends of Mr. Herron, who is well and favorably known in Charleroi, believes he will be able to cement the Republican forces in Washington county and secure the nomination. The last Washington county Republican to hold the office was John F. Budka, of Canonsburg, who served in the session of 1901.

In the past Mr. Herron has been importuned to accept other nominations on the Republican ticket, and a few years ago was strongly mentioned as a candidate for Congress, but he declined on account of business reasons. No other name has been mentioned in this connection and it may be Mr. Herron will have a clear field in this county.

FIFTH ENGINEERS SAFE IN ENGLAND

Cablegrams received in Charleroi this morning, from an English port, state that the Fifth Reserve Engineers, in which a number of Charleroi boys are serving, arrived safely. How long the men had been on the other side was not intimated. The regiment left Oakmont on the 8th of July, and the receipt of the cablegrams were the first intimations that relatives of members of the command had as to the destination. The regiment may have been in England for several days before the military authorities deemed it prudent to allow any messages to be sent.

Where the regiment will train in Europe is not stated. It may be they will be assigned to some camp in England, or they may be sent direct to France. The regiment was organized last spring, the first Company going into camp at Oakmont on the 23rd of May. This was just two months ago today, and while the members of the regiment made splendid progress in their training, it is not expected they will be ready for active service for some time to come yet. They will require at least three or four months of intensive training in France before the officers will allow them to get on the battle line.

However, it is some satisfaction to their friends to know that the first step of the journey to France has been made in safety.

RAILROAD INCREASES EMPLOYES AGE LIMIT

So many of the younger men of the country having been called into theservice of the United States, with a further draft to be made on those who are still at home, the Pennsylvania Railroad has decided to suspend temporarily the regulations covering the age limit for employment. The rule heretofore in force prohibited the hiring of new employes in any branch of the service above the age of 45 years. Under the new rule which has been adopted to meet the conditions, persons between the ages of 45 and 70 years may be employed during the war and for a period of six months thereafter. Inasmuch as such employment is not to be considered permanent, it will not carry with it the privileges of the pension department.

RINGGOLD UNION TO BE HELD IN MONESSEN

The annual reunion of the Ringgold Battalion, (22nd Pa. Cavalry) will be held in Monessen on the 5th of September. A meeting looking toward this end was held in Monessen last Friday by committees representing the Ringgolds and the Board of Trade of Monessen, at which time tentative plans for the reunion were made. It is expected to make the gathering of the veterans a banner occasion.

GOVERNMENT HUNTING FOR PLASTER PEDDLERS

Government officials are looking for two men, who last week, were endeavoring to sell court plaster and lead pencils in West Middlesex, near Sharon. Renecly a report came from Kansas of an alleged German plot to poison people by means of court plaster, which was believed to have been infected and a sharp lookout is being kept on itinerant peddlers who are selling plasters and pencils in the hope of running down the miscreants who would attempt such dastardly deeds.

DRAFTED MEN MAY ENLIST IN REGULARS

Those who have been selected for service under the draft measure will be permitted to enlist in the Regular Army or the National Guards up until the time they are called for examination before the exemption boards, probably 10 days hence, Provost Marshal Gen. Crowder announced Sunday evening. They will not be allowed to join the marine corps. After being called for examination all opportunities to enlist as volunteers will have passed. The first men drafted will likely be assigned to the Regular Army, in order to fill up the units of that branch of the service. After that they will be assigned to the National Guard and then the remainder to make up the National Army.

MANY ATTEND CONCERT GIVEN FOR COMPANY A

A number of Charleroi people were in Monongahela Sunday night and attended the concert given by the Monongahela Military Band as a compliment to Company A. Tonight a concert will be given by the New Eagle band, and on Tuesday evening it is expected that the Donora Steel Works band will be on hand to give the closing concert of the series.

WATCHMAN WAS KILLED BY FREIGHT TRAIN

The body of George Daw, aged 58 years, employed as a watchman for Booth & Flinn on a road contract near Elrama, was found early Sunday morning lying along side the Pennsylvania Railroad. It is presumed the man was killed by a freight train. The remains were brought to the Bebout & Yohe morgue at Monongahela, where they were prepared for burial, and then sent to his late home in Pittsburg this morning. Daw is survived by a large family, among them being eight sons.

FIFTH DISTRICT, WHICH INCLUDES CHARLEROI, MUST FURNISH 428 MEN

TO WORK OR TO JAIL FOR INDUSTRIAL SLACKERS

Fayette county men, rich or poor, who refuse to perform useful work, will be branded as slackers in accordance with a resolution adopted by the Fayette County Division of the Public Safety Committee, which has appointed a representative to draft idle men into service to save big crops now ready for service. Loafers will be rounded up and if they refuse to work they will be imprisoned.

Double That Number Will be Called Before Board for Examination

WORK WILL BEGIN AT ONCE

The Fifth District of Washington county will be called upon to furnish 428 men for the new National Army. The other districts will furnish the following number: First, 237; second, 344; third, 244; fourth, 358.

The quota of the Fifth District meansthat at least 856 men will be summoned for examination before the exemption board and that this number will be summoned from among the first seventeen serial hundreds drawn on Friday last.

Exemption boards are now being furnished with "master sheets," which will contain all of the numbers and arranged in the order in which they were drawn. They have been instructed to summon 200 per cent. of the number of men the district must furnish, at the same time eliminating all numbers which do not refer to their respective districts. If out of this number the full quota is not secured they are directed to proceed with the calling of additional men until the required number has been secured from their district. This will mean that the first 856 men who were drawn in the Fifth District will be summoned to appear before the board, and if out of this number, by reasons of exemption the quota cannot be obtained, additional men will have to be summoned until 428 are secured.

In order to get this number it is likely that men who were called in the seventeenth and possibly the eighteenth serial hundred will have to appear for examination. By the latter part of the week it is expected the various boards will be in shape to begin the examination of those who have been summoned to be among the first called.

IS WOUNDED IN FRANCE

Charleroi Man's Brother on Casualty List of Canadian Troops

THE SECOND IN ONE FAMILY

Thomas McHugh, of Washington avenue, near Seventh street, received a telegram on Thursday last from Ottawa, Ont., informing him that his brother Francis McHugh, a member of a Canadian infantry regiment, had been dangerously wounded on the 16th of July, while engaged in a battle in north-west France. The telegram stated that as soon as other word was received concerning his condition it would be forwarded at once to Mr. McHugh in Charleroi.

Francis McHugh is but 18 years of age and enlisted in a Canadian regiment about a year ago, having a short time previously come over from England on a visit to the Dominion. Another brother, William McHugh and a member of a Canadian Regiment, was killed May 5th, leaving Thomas McHugh of Charleroi, as the only surviving brother in the family.

MEN INOCULATED AGAINST TYPHOID

The recruits of Company A, at Monongahela, were inoculated today against typhoid fever and the "shot" made most of the men quite sick. After a period of ten days they will get another dose to be followed ten days later by a similar shot, after which time they are expected to be immune against typhoid fever. None of the men who served on the Mexican border were compelled to undergo the inoculation, having received the treatment last summer.

Capt. Hertland and his officers have completed all their paper work, that is, records have been brought down to date, and the remainder of the time in Camp Coulter can be given over to drills and other work of a strictly military caracter. No mention is made as to when the Company is likely to be taken to its southern cantonment.

KILLED BY FALL WHEN HIT BY LIVE WIRE

Joe Watill, aged 28 while working with a rigging gang in the Page mill at Monessen Friday afternoon, came in contact with a high tension wire while standing on a transformer platform. The shock knocked the man to the ground and he was so badly injured that he died the same evening in the Monongahela hospital.

REVOLVER AND BOOZE A BAD COMBINATION

Mrs. Mary Mitchell, who keeps house for former Chief of Police O. R. Ruschell of Bentleyville, ran amuck in that town on Sunday and for several hours had the residents of the village so terrorized that no attempt was made to arrest her until she finally succumbed to the wiles of Morpheus and went to sleep.

It seems that Mrs. Mitchell had imbibed too much "joy water," and securing the revolver of former Chief Ruschell, proceeded to "shoot up" the town. No one cared to approach her while she was in action, and for several hours she had things all her own way. Finally, after she had mastered the situation and having no more "worlds to conquer," she sat down to rest, when she was overcome by the after-effects of her imbibing and proved an easy arrest for the local officers, who locked her up for the time being for safe keeping. The situation was exciting while it lasted, but it was a strenuous experience the people of that community do not care to have again.

THE CANTONMENTS.

Few things are done which practically everybody approves and nothing is done to which some one does not object. There is some criticism of the names of four of the cantonments and much criticism of the location is difficult to explain. Four of the thirty-two cantonments are designated by the names of four officers of the Southern Confederacy, Lee, Beauregard, Gordon and Wheeler, while twenty-eight are named for Northern officers of the Civil War and a few Northerners of the older generation who still remember the Civil War with bitterness, should object to the inclusion of even these few Confederate names. For this part of the criticism, therefore, there is reason, though not good reason.

But for the criticism of location there is no reason at all. Twenty of the cantonments are located in the South—including Maryland and Kentucky—and soldiers from many Northern States will be trained there. Only twelve cantonments are located in the North, West and the Pacific States. It is charged that the South has been favored, and there may be commercial advantage in the near residence of training troops. But it is at once obvious that it is the taxpayers who are really "favored" by the choice of so many Southern locations. The government can not afford the needless expense and waste of energy involved in both winter and summer camps for training men and from the practical point of view it is highly desirable that as many cantonments as possible be located in mild climates where the snow will not lie in winter.

THE DELAYED FOOD BILL

It has become clearer every day that opposition to the Food bill has been confined to speculators and special interests. It was supposed that producers generally were opposed and obstructing Congressmen have not neglected the opportunity to pose as the "friend of the farmer." But more light was thrown on the subject when 400,000 farmers handed a request to the Senate to pass the Food bill without any more trifling or delay. This showed that sentiment, already known to be practically universal among consumers, was also widespread if not practically universal among producers.

Under such circumstances another white-heat statement from the President on the subject of "wilful men" who disregard the nations' voice in a crisis might have sent the bill through without delay, but he has naturally hesitated to do this while the fight on the bill involved the cry of Presidential dictatorship and when the opposition might welcome and make capital out of such action on his part. The President has waited for the country itself to speak, and a public partly wearied, partly indifferent and largely not on the alert, has failed to make itself heard in certain tones. But the voice of those 400,000 farmers showed an awakening to the needs of the hour where least expected and gave promise of action of the right sort, legislative action which will put greedy speculators under restraint and permit Mr. Hoover to hammer down prices to the level demanded imperatively by the situation both at home and abroad.

Germany is returning to France a part of the population that was deported and enslaved—the part that is no longer capable of labor but must still eat.

Those who think the end of the war is near overlook the fact that German newspaper editors still talk of indemnities from the allies—with rich Uncle Sam to pay the bill—as if collection will be as easy as rolling off a log.

Switzerland reports that the convoy of our troop transports sank four of Germany's attacking submarines. Only the Germans are in a position to tell how many were sunk, but Switzerland touches and trades daily with Germany and has ears.

What's the matter with Germany?

The disease is complicated, but an important part of it consists in the suffrage system that permits the militarists and other masters to vote three times and the people—some of the people—to vote once.

It is not so long since Henry Ford was working to get Europe's boys out of the trenches by Christmas and now he is doing his considerable bit to get America's boys in them by early fall. There's never any telling what the whirligig of time will bring about.

Paris cafes are offering "Poulet a la Wilson," which is all very well when chicken dinners can be afforded, but what they ought to be offering is Johnny cake or hoecake a la Hoover and teaching the French people to employ plentiful corn instead of scarce wheat.

PRODUCTS WIN ANOTHER GAME

Clyde Regester and his band of Indians escaped from the reservation on Saturday last and took a full out of Arch Osborne's palefaces at the Charleroi ball park by a score of 5 to 4. This makes five straight games for the Steel Products team in the championship contest, in which Pittsburg Steel and Monongahela, to date are "also-rans." The game was well played, and while the Products boys were outhit, they were there with the inside stuff which finally landed the game. The Products team is going good at the present time, and while the bunting has not been sewed up, they look confidently forward to the next game with Monongahela, when they hope to put the final clincher on the gonfalon. Next Saturday the team will play the Ambridge team at Ambridge. The score of Saturday's game:

Physical Examinations.

There is a side to the whole problem of physical examination which is very important. I am interested in physical examinations, not to shut men out of work, but to use them more intelligently and to give them a proper chance. Oftentimes employers and the men affected do not know that something has gone wrong with an employee. There was one concern that did not care two straws about physical examinations and would not pay any attention to the question. One day an elevator man took up a party of investors who were going to a board meeting in the establishment. He was seized with heart disease right between the floors, but fortunately the elevator stopped itself by the rarest good fortune. The executives of the plant now agree that physical examinations are no idle luxury. Men owe it to themselves, the company owes it to itself and the company owes it to its employees to have such examinations.—Meyer Bloomfield in Industrial Management.

May Be the Oldest Book.

In an ancient Samaritan synagogue at Shechem a double roll of parchment is guarded jealously and is zealously preserved. It was to Shechem that Abraham came in his first visit to Canaan. Near Shechem Jacob sank his famous well, and the returning Israelites heard here for the last time the voice of Joshua. Shechem was the first residence of the kings of Israel and was a city of refuge. Here at Jacob's well Jesus met the woman of Samaria. Here the great Justin Martyr was born. After the division of Israel into two kingdoms Shechem became the religious center of the northern kingdom, and Jeroboam's self appointed faith degenerated into the Samaritan worship of our Lord's day which is perpetuated in the old synagogue which holds this scroll. This double roll of parchment, possibly the oldest in the world, contains the first five books of the Old Testament and may be as old as the days of Jeremiah.—Christian Herald.

Joy of Pockets.

The pocket has to be lacked before it is properly appreciated, the London Chronicle says. This writer had taken his pockets as a matter of course until one evening he attended a fancy dress ball in costume which he discovered when too late to remedy the defect was absolutely pocketless. The question at once arose what to do with pocket handkerchief, money, cloakroom ticket, and so on. The handkerchief, of course, went up his sleeve, but it took some minutes to devise receptacles for coins and other necessaries in the lining of the cap, the heels of the shoes and the cuff of the coat. All night long, however, he felt lost through having no place to thrust his hands into. Since then he finds himself frequently putting his hands into his pockets to experience the sheer joy of knowing that they are there.

Care of Harness Leather.

Harness leather cannot be neglected without injury that lessens its durability. It should be washed and oiled frequently. The washing should be done in tepid water with a neutral soap and a sponge or stiff brush. After rinsing in clean tepid water the harness is hung up to drain a little while before oiling.

For driving harness neatsfoot or castor oil is best, but for heavy harness there may be some tallow in the oil. The applications should be light for driving and liberal for heavy harness. The oil warm to the hand, is rubbed thoroughly into the leather while it is still wet from the washing. Excess oil which the leather is unable to take up should be removed with a clean dry cloth.—New York Sun.

A Legend of Agincourt.

For many centuries we English have plumed ourselves upon the victory of Agincourt. But the French have an account of the affair not so much to our credit. It was arranged, according to this fable, by the two leaders that only the nobles on each side were to fight. King Henry V. then artfully ennobled his whole army and hence got the best of the enemy. Shakespeare unwittingly gives a little countenance to the legend when he makes the king declare in his address to the soldiers "Be he ne'er so vile, this day shall gentle his condition."—London Standard.

Wrong Either Way.

"I understand your automobile has got you into trouble."

"It's always getting me into trouble one way or another," replied Mr. Chuggins. "When it runs I get arrested for speeding, when it refuses to run I get arrested for profanity."—Washington Star.

Meat Pies.

Meat pies are made most satisfactorily by first cooking the meat and vegetables as for a stew. Line a pan, earthenware dish or casserole with biscuit dough rolled fairly thin, put in the meat, vegetables and gravy, cover with dough and bake in a hot oven.

Unprepared.

Edith—Were you taken by surprise when he proposed, dear? Elsie—Goodness, yes! Why, I hadn't even looked up his financial standing.—Boston Transcript.

Falsehood.

No falsehood, did it rise heaven high and cover the world, but bankruptcy one day will sweep it down and make us free of it.—Carlyle.

Sincerity is the basis of all true friendship. Without sincerity it is like a ship without ballast.

Regular Habits.

Regular habits for retiring must be considered as one of the best methods for securing good sleep.

The human body has a wonderful periodicity in all tis spontaneuous actions, and by studying these much of the machinery of health may be made to work smoothly.

Witness one habit of waking at a certain hour to which we have been accustomed.

Regularity in eating is also important for health. The digestive tract will respond at regular times just as other habits will repeat themselves.

Proper food properly digested will do much for one's health and happiness.

It is a mistake to eat too much.

We should try and enjoy our meals by paying attention to the taste of food. Do not gulp it down. It should be masticated and tasted so as to stimulate those nerves which reflect their sense on the other nerves controlling the glands of digestion.

When you feel indigestion after eating a meal, note the ingredients eaten, and should it repeat itself, try to convict the guilty food and dismiss it from your dietry.

Don't make eating a task but make it a pleasure so that the food will digest and be assimilated and applied to the different necessities of the activities of life.

Youth demands a greater variety and quantity of food than does old age, and especially does it require more protein and meat.

Learning what foodstuffs best suit is one of the great educational tasks man has before him, for he no longer has the intuition of the lower animals. The latter see mto inherit a sense that directs them what is best for their body wants. The vast majority of animals can differentiate between poisonous and nonpoisonous foodstuffs.

BROKEN DOWN IN HEALTH

Woman Tells How $5 Worth of Pinkham's Compound Made Her Well.

Lima, Ohio.—"I was all broken down in health from a displacement. One of my lady friends came to see me and she advised me to commence taking Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and to use Lydia E. Pinkham's Sanative Wash. I began taking your remedies and took $5.00 worth and in two months was a well woman after three doctors said I never would stand up straight again. I was a midwife for seven years and I recommended the Vegetable Compound to every woman to take before birth and afterwards, and they all got along so nicely that it surely is a godsend to suffering women. If women wish to write to me I will be delighted to answer them."—Mrs. JENNIE MOYER, 342 E. North St., Lima, Ohio.

Women who suffer from displacements, weakness, irregularities, nervousness, backache, or bearing-down pains, need the tonic properties of the roots and herbs contained in Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

Congressman's Daughter Defends Suffs in Court

Although she lost her case, Miss Helena Hill Weed, suffragist daughter of a Kansas Congressman, will be remembered in Washington for her gallant defense of twelve suffragists, including herself, who were arrested recently for obstructing traffic in front of the White House. Miss Weed appeared as counsel for the defendants, in spite of the fact that she is not a lawyer. A suffragist, she assumed the role of lawyer, skillfully cross-examining witnesses and giving a demonstration of her oratory in the summing up of her case. The "suffs" were fined $25 apiece, two of them paying and the others electing to serve three days in jail. Miss Weed herself went to jail as one of the offenders.

Floating War Loans.

The United States was in actual fact the originator of what may be called the intensive campaign for popular subscription to a war loan. Jay Cooke in 1862, undertaking on commission the floating of $400,000,000 United States bonds on which Wall street had looked coldly at the treasury's terms, started his 2,500 subordinates to canvassing all towns and villages of the country. By the visiting of every house like book agents, the enlisting of local committees, the placarding of town halls and post offices and railway stations, the constructing of patriotic appeals through the newspapers and the promotion of public meetings he drew on reserves of capital previously unsuspected and actually elicited in the time prescribed $15,000,000 more subscriptions than the authorized total of the loan before he could stop the wheels of his organization.

In short, the United States invented this method of floating war loans, as it invented such other appurtenances of war as the armored ship and the submarine.—Alexander Dana Noyes in Scribner's.

Many Names For Lilacs.

In England one never hears the lilac pronounced "laylock" now, according to the eighteenth century habit, but it is noted in "The Book of Flowers," by Katharine Tynan and Frances Maitland, that old fashioned people in Ireland still keep up that pronunciation. In Henry VIII.'s time, when the tree was new in England, it was called the "lilach."

Other names of it were pipe bush, pipe, blue pipe tree and pipe privit, on account of the hollow stalk. "Lily oak" is one variety of the spelling of "lilac," evidently to "make sense" of it. Among modern names are mentioned May flower (Devon and Cornwall), May lilies (Devon), Prince's feather (Cornwall), soldier's feathers (Somerset), duck's bills and oysters.—London Globe.

A Bible In Forty-five Volumes.

The "grangerized" Bible mentioned by a correspondent, which was valued at £3,000, was probably the celebrated "Bowyer Bible," the arrangement of which occupied William Bowyer, the printer, from 1798 to 1824. It was based upon a copy of Macklin's costly edition of the Bible which Bowyer interleaved with 7,000 engravings, costing £6,000, and sumptuously bound in forty-five volumes, which were inclosed in a handsome oak cabinet.

At his death a lottery was got up for the benefit of his daughter, with the Bible as the sole prize. A Somersetshire farmer, Mr. Saxon, won it, but subsequently it changed hands several times, the last recorded sale occurring in 1851, when Robert Heywood of Bolton bought it for £500.—London Spectator.

Where the Fruit Grows.

A politician who had been in office and on the payroll of a certain city for many years was addressing a meeting of his fellow citizens. It was a labor meeting.

"You men must know," spouted the orator, "that you are the great body politic in this city. You are the roots and trunk of our great municipal tree, while we who represent you in office are merely branches on that magnificent tree."

"True for you!" piped a man in the back of the hall. "But did ye ever notice all the fruit grows on the branches?"

What He Would Do.

At the time that Frederick II. used to sup with his French philosophers he demanded of them one day, "What would you do if you were the king of Prussia?"

Every guest tried a flattering and witty rejoinder. When the Marquis d'Argens' turn came he said: "Sire, what would I do? I would sell my kingdom and acquire a small province in France."

White Felt Hats.

A white felt hat can be readily cleaned with a piece of fine sandpaper. If this is not available mix cornmeal and salt together, using two-thirds of meal. Rub the mixture in thoroughly and allow to stand overnight before brushing out.

A Little Resuscitation.

PRACTICAL HEALTH HINT.

Don't Tickle the Baby.

"Come and see baby laugh, mother," said baby's big sister as her mother returned from her work. Mother was quite pleased to see the little one so merry. It didn't occur to her that tickling could do the child any harm.

Anything that brings a child into a state of screaming and laughing excitement is overstraining the young nerves and setting the seeds of hysteria which will probably blossom forth in man or womanhood. Proof has been given that certain people who lack will power have been unduly tickled in their youth. Merry laughter is healthy if it is provoked naturally, but when it is induced by tickling until the child is in a shrieking condition the result is disastrous. Mothers and all others having the care of children should take this advice to heart.

BUY RIPE PRODUCTS IN MARKET AND HURRY TO CANNING CENTERS

Charles Lathrop Pack of National Emergency Food Garden Commission Urges Quick Action to Save Food

New York, July 23—"A million dollars worth of fruits and vegetables in the markets of the country every day this summer must go one of two ways before sunset" said Charles Lathrop Pack, president of the National Emergency Food Garden Cimmission of Washington today. "These two ways are to the garbage pail or to a canning and drying center and there should be quick action to avoid the former.

"Ninety per cent of market produce which is very ripe or slightly bruised can therefore cannot be kept and be canned or dried by the housewife if she can get it in time. Therefore in the name of the boys who are going to the front who will have to be fed I urge the organization in every community of a round up squad to make a tour of the markets, buy up this product cheaply and rush it to a canning and drying center that it may be saved for winter use.

"I was astonished' 'continued Mr. Pack who made a tour of New York Markets today." to see the enormous amounts of fruit and vegetables that may be obtained in this way at a price below the market quotations. One organization here has grasped this opportunity—an opportunity that should be made the most of all over the country.

"This organization is the Junior League which has opened a canning kitchen under the Williamsburg Bridge. Its scouts are buying up the very ripe or slightly bruised but perfectly good produce and rushing it to headquarters. Here a staff of women are putting it up. Each woman gets a card punched with credits for the amount of time put in. Next winter they get this credit in canned goods which they can use or turn over to people who need it.

"The commission from its headquarters at 210 Maryland Bldg., in Washington will send our canning and drying manuals to any who send a two cent stamp to pay postage and will be glad to serve any orgasizations which will get into this emergency work."

FOREIGNER KILLED BY PASSENGER TRAIN

Joseph Drezinga, a foreigner, was killed near Donora Sunday night, being struck by a passenger train on the Pennsylvania Railroad. The remains were removed to the Rabe mortuary, where they were prepared for burial, but are being held in the hope of having friends to claim the body. Nothing further is known of the man, the only identification being the name on pictures which were found in his pockets. Deputy Coroner Rabe made a preliminary investigation and Coroner Heffran will determine whether an inquest is necessary or not.

Summer Boarders.

Summer boarders are people who spend several weeks in the country each summer longing for a trip home. They are usually very witty persons and make comical remarks to the farmer. Aside from the board they pay him the farmer cleans up a tidy sum each summer by sending the things his boarders say to the comic weeklies. A summer boarder can merely look at a cow and quick as a wink he will say something funny. The farmer puts this down in a book he always carries around with him. In the course of a couple of weeks he has several pages of good jokes to sell at his own rates. If you board with a farmer any summer say some funny things to him about the cows or the pigs. If he keeps a horse always poke fun at his horse. He will laugh at the funny things you say. Then he will go in and open up a can of fresh country peas out of his own cellar so that when you go back to the city you will miss the country vegetables. When you leave be sure and tell him how you enjoyed the country eating so that he can laugh some more.—Philadelphia Star.

Respect the Children.

Don't call the children kids. A kid is a goat, and, while goats are all right in their way, children are better. The dictionary says "kid" applied to a child is slang. And so it is. It depreciates the child. There is no sense in taking away the dignity of a child by calling him an animal. We must keep up the human relation where respect, sympathy, love dwell. The older people may overlook the false appellation, but it stays with the child and makes him feel, after all, that he is only a little goat and that his fond delight is in eating old rags and paper boxes. Really the child is an angel rather than a goat and is entitled to the sweet considerations that belong to a human being, and if he does not get these it is very likely he will be a sort of goat all his life. So drop the "kid" vocabulary, and give the child every chance to be a true human.—Columbus State Journal.

A Misconductor.

The Poet — So you've disposed of your little Pomeranian? I thought you were so fond of him? The Violinist—Yes, but I had to decide between him and my art. Every time I played a nocturne on my instrument he wagged his tail in ragtime.—New York Globe.

CHARLES W. JONES CALLED BY DEATH

Charles Wesley Jones, son of the late Jesse L. Jones, passed away at the home of his daughter, Mrs. Stephen Wingett, who lives on the Monongahela and Washington pike, seven miles west of Monongahela, at 9:15 Saturday morning, July 21. He was born in 1847. Mr. Jones came from an old pioneer family and resided on the farm where he was born near Bentleyville, his grandfather, William Jones, having settled there in 1763. In 1907 he moved to Charleroi and last fall while on a visit at his daughter's home took ill. His family at almost the same time were moving from Charleroi to a farm in Nottingham township, which he had purchased. Mr. Jones' condition grew worse and he was not able to join his family at the new home. He was twice married, his first wife being Belle Willison of Houston, Pa., a daughter of the late Jos. L. Willison. She passed away in 1880. To them were born three children, Walter, of Monongahela, Mrs. Stephen Wingett at whose home he passed away, and Edwin, who died in infancy. In 1883 he was married to Margaret B. Scott, and to them was born one son, Chauncey, who resides at home with his mother. He leaves one brother, Samuel Jackson of near Monongahela. Funeral services were held at the Wingett home, Monday, July 23 at 10:30 conducted by the Rev. E. N. Duty, pastor of the First Christian church of Charleroi with interment in the Monongahela cemetery.

Mrs. Martha E. Quear.

Mrs. Martha E. Quear, wife of J. D. Quear, of Fifth street died on Saturday, July 21, at the Charleroi-Mercessen hospital, from apoplexy, aged about 54 years. Funeral services were held this afternoon at 2 o'clock, Rev. C. P. Bastian of the Lutheran church officiating.

Think It Over!

ADVERTISING is a SELLING FORCE that is without question. Its oft-proven power in accelerating sales gives it this prestige.

DON'T advertise an article falsely. There are 2 penalties for this. 1. It is punishable by law. 2. It will turn your trade elsewhere.

VARIED means of advertising are at your disposal. You will find them all good, but the standard way is the NEWSPAPER.

EACH and EVERY merchant should treat himself to the best means of gaining publicity for his merchandise. ADVERTISE.

REACH out after trade. Your window display alone is helpless, but the far-reaching arms of advertising will prove it a wonder.

TEST this paper's facilities. It enters every home in Charleroi and vicinity and takes your store news direct to your customers.

INSURE the future of your business now. Gain popularity for your store and make it a place people will be pleased to come to.

START NOW and be CONSISTENT. Every ad is one more run scored in your favor. You will be surprised at the results.
